- (3) At the same time as the Supervisory Board members, substitute members may be appointed for one or for several specific Supervisory Board members of the shareholders.
They shall become members of the Supervisory Board in an order to be determined at the time of election if Supervisory Board members of the shareholders as whose substitute members they were elected resign from the Supervisory Board before the expiry of the term of office without a successor having been appointed. If the office of the substitute member replacing the departed member expires as a result of the by-election, this shall require a majority of three quarters of the votes cast. In calculating the period of notice, the day of dispatch of the invitation and the day of the meeting shall not be counted. The invitation shall include the individual items on the agenda and any proposed resolutions. In urgent cases, the notice period may be shortened and the meeting may be convened by telex, telephone or any other technically customary means of communication (in particular by e-mail). In addition, absent members of the Supervisory Board may cast their votes during the meeting or subsequently within a reasonable period of time to be determined by the chairman of the meeting orally, by telephone, in writing, by fax, by e-mail or by other common means of telecommunication, in particular by video conferencing, provided that no member present at the meeting objects to this procedure. There shall be no right of objection if the absent and the present members of the Supervisory Board are in communication with each other by way of all-round and simultaneous seeing and hearing and can discuss the subject matter of the resolution.
- (5) Resolutions of the Supervisory Board shall require a majority of the votes cast, unless otherwise provided by law. In the event of a tie, the Chairman of the meeting concerned shall have the casting vote.

- (2) In addition to the fixed remuneration, the members of the Supervisory Board receive an attendance fee for attending meetings of the Supervisory Board. This amounts to € 1,000.00 per member and € 2,000.00 for the Chairman of the Supervisory Board. The attendance fee is also paid if an individual member participates in a meeting of the Supervisory Board by video conference.
- (3) For membership of the Nomination Committee, the members of the Supervisory Board also receive fixed annual remuneration of € 5,000.00 and the Chairman of the Committee receives € 10,000.00. § 15 Participation and voting rights

- (1) Only those shareholders who register prior to the meeting shall be entitled to attend the general meeting and to exercise their voting rights. The registration must be received by the Company in German or English at the address specified for this purpose in the convening notice at least six days before the general meeting, not including the day of receipt and the day of the general meeting. The notice convening the general meeting may provide for a shorter period to be measured in days. In relation to the Company, only those persons shall be deemed to be shareholders for the purpose of attending the general meeting or exercising voting rights who have provided such proof.
- (2) At the General Meeting, each no-par share grants one vote.

In cases where the law additionally requires a majority of the share capital represented when the resolution is adopted, a simple majority of the share capital represented when the resolution is adopted shall suffice, unless another majority is mandatory by law.
- (4) The voting right may be exercised by a proxy. The granting of the proxy, its revocation and the proof of the authorisation must be submitted in text form to the Company. The details for the granting of the proxy, its revocation and its proof shall be communicated to the Company together with the convening of the General Meeting, in which also a simplification compared to the text form may be determined. Paragraph 135 AktG remains unaffected.
- (5) The Company shall be entitled, with the consent of the holders of admitted securities of the Company, to transmit information by means of remote data transmission.

In doing so, the chairman may reasonably limit the shareholders' right to ask questions and to speak in terms of time. In particular, he shall be entitled, at the beginning of the general meeting or during its course, to determine an appropriate time frame for the entire course of the general meeting, for the debate on individual agenda items and for individual speeches or questions. In addition, the chairman may order the end of the debate if this is necessary for the proper conduct of the general meeting.
- (3) The chairman of the meeting is authorised to permit the video and audio transmission of the general meeting in whole or in part in a manner to be determined by him. The transmission may also be made in another form to which the public has unrestricted access.

If the report is not forwarded to the Executive Board before the expiry of the further deadline, the annual financial statements and - if required - the consolidated financial statements shall be deemed not to have been approved by the Supervisory Board.
If the Supervisory Board approves the annual financial statements, they shall be adopted, unless the Executive Board and the Supervisory Board decide to leave the adoption of the annual financial statements to the General Meeting. The resolutions of the Executive Board and the Supervisory Board shall be included in the report of the Supervisory Board to the General Meeting.

- (3) Upon receipt of the report of the Supervisory Board on the result of its audit, the Executive Board shall without delay convene the ordinary General Meeting to receive the adopted annual financial statements and the management report, to pass a resolution on the appropriation of the balance sheet profit and - if necessary - to receive the consolidated financial statements approved by the Supervisory Board and the group management report; the resolution shall set out in detail the appropriation of the balance sheet profit.
